Greetings, Parents and Guardians!

If you missed the primary grades' production of It's a Jungle Out There!, you really missed a treat! The children did an amazing job of singing, dancing and acting. Congratulations to all, and kudos to the teachers who helped them do so well!

Progress reports for this quarter are in today's folder. Please check these carefully; some of the children think these last weeks of school aren't important. The truth is, they are the MOST important! These are the grades that determine the yearly average that goes on the permanent record card, and this quarter introduces new material that they will need to continue to work on in the next grade. Whatever a child can do NOW will certainly make next year better! I know it may be hard, but please don't allow them to "let down" on effort these last few weeks!

In March, grades K through 7 took the Iowa Tests of Basic Skills. Those reports have come back, and are being mailed to you. If you do not receive yours, please let us know, especially if your address has changed this year. The third grade scoring, however, was botched, and those reports need to be re-run. Sorry for the inconvenience, but they will be coming later.

Registration for next school year has been open since February, and classes are really filling up. If you know someone interested in attending St. Boniface, especially in the lower grades, please have them contact us NOW because Ed Choice scholarship applications must be in by the end of April, and there is paperwork that needs to be submitted with it.

If you get a voice message from school, please check to see who is trying to contact you before calling us back. It might be the school nurse, the secretary, the classroom teacher, or someone else, but we have no way of knowing and it may take us quite a while to trace the caller. But if you tell us who the message was from, we can be right on it!

The eighth graders will be going to the Queen City Clay Company on Friday to "throw pots" on a wheel! Their creations will be glazed and fired, and become the centerpieces for their graduation reception. They always come back with such creative and unique pieces!
